1 software. They were just looking at screens.

2 And, indeed, Karya did give their user IDs and 3 passwords to Expedien, and they shouldn't have done that,
4 but they did. But they had to in order for Expedien to do
5 their work, and it caused no harm to ResMan.

6 Finally, Arya's been in process for over two years.
7 It's not complete. It's not in use externally or 8 internally. It won't be used until this Court allows it to 9 be used. Over 10,000 manhours have been spent on developing 10 it. Over a million three has been spent thus far. That is 11 not copying. That's developing your own system.

12 So, in conclusion, Karya and Expedien did not copy.
13 Karya wanted a better and different system, and the 14 information used was not a trade secret of ResMan. It was 15 information that's commonly available in the marketplace,
16 information belonging to Karya and publicly available
17 information.

18 Also, ResMan has a duty to protect what they claim is a 19 trade secret. We're going to show you they didn't. Their 20 screenshots and their program was publicly available in 21 demos, trade shows, YouTube and the like, and we'll get into 22 detail.

23 THE COURTROOM DEPUTY: Your time is up.

24 MR. SAYLES: So, in conclusion, there was no
25 damage and no harm at all to ResMan, and we look forward to
